A Meticulously Machined Trigger Guard for Your Enhanced AR-15

Thanks to the miracles of modern machining, Geissele tackled the unassuming AR-15 trigger guard with renewed vigor, creating a masterpiece that's head-and-shoulders above any other AR-15 trigger guard on the market. Thanks to the use of 5-Axis machining, the Geissele Ultra Precision Trigger Guard features meticulous machining that removes every sliver of unneeded metal in its construction. Machined from 7075-T6 aluminum, the Geissele Ultra Precision Trigger Guard provides users with a smooth, snag-free surface from virtually every point on the guard. The design is so precise, that the company was even able to fill in that irritating gap between the trigger guard and the pistol grip. Plus, it just looks awesome, too, making it the perfect finishing touch for your dream-gun build. You can get the guard in either black or DDC finishes.
